

Dear Sirs: The FCC is considering changing the regulations on the number of radio (& tv stations) a company can own in a particular area. Lets remember freedom of speech. If a company can dominate the air waves how can we continue to discover new and interesting artists. I already find it a problem!